Jungfrau – Konkordia – Fiescheralp

An alpine adventure featuring a breathtaking glacier landscape, the Konkordia hut, and the Great Aletsch Glacier.

Two-Day Glacier Tour — an unforgettable experience!

The train ride up to the Jungfraujoch alone is worth the trip. But our adventure really begins up here. At the exit tunnel, the guide explains the most important mountains and how to behave on the glacier, since we'll be walking across a glacier that's covered in snow year-round—which means we'll be roped together with climbing harnesses attached to a taut rope. Along the way, we learn interesting facts about the glacier.

The tour

On the first day, we hike across the Jungfraufirn, past the ice racks of the Eternal Snowfield, to the stairs leading up to the Konkordia Hut. Here we enjoy a unique view of Konkordiaplatz and the impressive mountain landscape. After a hearty dinner and a cozy get-together in the homey living room, we set off early the next morning. We'll hike down to the glacier via the well-maintained South Trail. With a little luck, we'll spot glacier fleas, marvel at a massive whirlpool, cross the impressive central moraines, and learn how glacier tables and sand cones form. At Märjelensee, we'll leave the glacier and reach Fiescheralp via well-maintained hiking trails.
